

Strange Fire

Forget everything I said
It came out fast and all in red
Nothings as simple as I made it
Passion tells lies to steal a moment

we'll go on just like we did
I'll pretend it's all in my head
Secrets seldom kill the keeper
But truth revealed buries knife plunged deeper

I swear I'll keep it to myself
I'll borrow time, won't kiss and tell
Love burns long to sooth desire
To the grave I'll take this strange fire

Woman of my unrealized dreams
You have many names
Your face it's changed
You're a wanderer untamed
A balloon with no string
Despite all my gravity
You're so far above me

And it's not a crush or a game
I love you too much to risk a change
So I watch you fall for everyone else
I'll be here, the crater to your crash

Well I'll just keep it to myself
I'll borrow time, won't kiss and tell
Love burns long to sooth desire
To the grave I'll take this strange fire

I beg you let this be unrequited
You might be where my self control ends
Where my natural disaster begins
Please don't test me cos I fear
You'll wreak havoc in my atmosphere

So I'll just keep it to myself
I'll borrow time, won't kiss and tell
Love burns long to sooth desire
To the grave I'll go with this strange fire
